By reducing waists as well as wastes, this war will do much to improve the appearance and efficiency of the singular human race.

If one or all of the devices absolutely guaranteed to put the "U" boats out of business shall cut the losses in half much will have been accomplished toward victory.

THERE is, evidently, nothing heroic about the German spies thus far arrested in this country. They do not "stand the gaff" and keep silent to the death, but readily confess to save their lives, and implicate all who have assisted them.

SETTING the clock forward has proved so confusing that it is being rapidly abandoned by the British. This is another opportunity to profit by British mistakes and refrain from monkeying with the orderly procession of the hours.

Get an even start with the flies by using a rubber swatter.

There was only a small crowd here to county court Monday, the weather being extremely unfavorable. No court business of importance was transacted.

The country has suffered a tremendous loss in lives and property the past week from wind. The previous week it was fire.

The furniture will be glad if you give it a dressing of Roark's furniture polish.

Weather Forecast for the Week.

Forecast for the week beginning Sunday May 27, 1917—For Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Partly overcast with frequent showers; cooler by Sunday night and Monday. Seasonal temperature thereafter.

Don't miss it by failing to buy a Chautauqua season ticket, and pay more for single admissions.

The Chautauqua will be held at the same spot on Main street, and the grounds are being put in condition.

Whatever you may want in window shades can be had at Roark's.

Mr. Harry McCracken gathered one quart of berries this week which ran 38 to the quart, and the display in C. M. Howard's window attracted much attention. Greenville is fast getting to be a berry center, and our supply is quite adequate to the local demand. In fact, shipments are getting to be frequent, the call being strong for the product.

Over half a hundred patterns of wall paper in stock at Roark's from 5 to 25 cents a roll. Get bargains at any price you pay.

If Treason, Then Punish It.

Magistrate Fuchs in the Night court probably exceeded his powers when he declared that agitators against the conscription law should henceforth be considered traitors, and in his court would be treated as such.

The wisdom of a law is at times lawfully subject to criticism. Agitation for its repeal is entirely within the rights of the citizens and may not be suppressed by the authorities.

But while a law stands it must be obeyed. The right to agitate does not include the right to violate or to induce others to violate a law. Particularly is this true of a law so vital to the country's safety and life as the one which provides for raising troops in time of actual war.

The men and women, sometimes deluded, sometimes misguided, but in either case doing the work of our enemy, who are trying to defeat the endeavor of this government to raise an army for defense are unquestionably guilty of a grave offense against the nation. It may not be treason in the eye of the courts, but it is a misdemeanor sufficiently grave to justify putting them away in retreats where agitation does not thrive.

The government is thoroughly justified in bringing some of the more outrageous of these agitators to book. If their offense be indeed treason, let the prosecutors make the most of it.—New York Sun.

Dry Fruit for Winter Use.

The U. S. Government has issued a special bulletin strongly advising people everywhere to dry fruit of all kinds, as there is little trouble in the operation, no losses result, as in canning, and the expense for sugar can be cut down vastly, as only sweetening need be used as the fruit is used, and always at a time when sugar is cheapest, in the winter months. This practice has been dropped to a great degree, people depending on canned and evaporated fruits, at a great increase in the cost of living. This is a great avenue for saving, and insures a full supply of this valuable food, which occasionally becomes scarce, or is cornered by large interest, and the price is almost prohibitive.

Chautauqua season tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

This office has supplied almost 10,000 sticker flags, and has more for those who want them.

"Civilization," presented here Monday and Tuesday at Queen theatre, drew large audiences at every performance, and everybody was well pleased.

Hear the matchless $15 Victrola at Roark's.

Mr. Jas. W. Oates, of Harp's Hill, arrived from Florida the latter part of the week, on a visit to his home folks. He has joined the 7th Reg. Florida volunteers, and it is thought they will be called to the front at an early date. Mr. Oates has been a member of an engineering corps, building good roads in Florida.

Everybody entitled will vote on Tuesday, June 5, or wish they had.

Get any sort of sewing machine equipment from Roark.

Mrs. J. A. Shaver returned yesterday from a visit to relatives in Burgin, and was accompanied by her nieces, Misses Virginia and Garnette Pruitt, who will be here for our Chautauqua.

The Victrola reflects music, philosophy and art. Hear its wonderful capacity at Roark's.

Mrs. Grace Charters, advance representative of the Lincoln Chautauqua association, arrived Monday, and things have been happening ever since. She has gotten everything in splendid shape for the opening today, and will leave tonight for her next appointment. As an official "starter" she is a wonder, has the knack of not only doing things, but getting others enthused.

I have a thoroughbred buffalo Jersey male, service, $1. Also have the silver lace Wyandotte, eggs 75c per setting. At. Curg Wright.

Get a copy of the "Music Master," a play made so great by David Warfield that Charles Klein wrote a wonderful book from it. The story will likely be given in our Chautauqua by Arthur Kachel, a dramatic reader of national reputation. Roark will supply the book at 60c.

Mr. J. A. Shaver is reaching most satisfactory development with his Gibson straw erries, and is building up a most satisfactory list of patrons. In size, color, flavor and shape, this is one of the most pleasing berries ever presented here.

Registration Day, Tuesday, June 5.

Sheriff Robert Wickliffe has about perfected his plans for registration of all men who have reached 21 and have not passed 31 years of age. At every voting place in the county polls will be open, and anyone who fails to register will be subject to a year's imprisonment. Mr. Wickliffe wants all the help he may need, and has a host of volunteers. Preachers and school teachers are asked to urge the importance of folks eligible in registering, as there will be no excuse accepted, if men are able to get to the polls.

See the line of tailing machines at Roark's, and select the instrument you wish.

Tom Corwine a Human Phonograph

Tom Corwine, one of the well known entertainers to be enjoyed at the Lincoln Chautauquas during their week here, has been called the human phonograph because he has the gift of imitating accurately every imaginable sound. He uses his lips and lungs and mouth to correctly imitate everything from a bird to a battleship, and it is said that he does it in such a way as to provoke gales of laughter. His friends declare that he is first cousin to a parrot, close kin to the mocking bird and a near-relation to a phonograph. Mr. Corwine is one of the Lincoln features presented by them for the first time in this city.

Hear John McCormack and chorus sing "The Star Spangled Banner" at Roark's. Hundreds of other selections which please, and you are invited to hear anything, any time.

Good morning! Bought your Chautauqua tickets?

Roark's rocker reducing sale, with splendid goods at "before the war" prices will place a rocker or two in your home if you will only look at the goods and prices.

Great attendance is assured at the Chautauqua, and great times are equally assured. The loser will be the one who stays away. Never as much can be bought for $2.

The government is proposing a 5 per cent. war revenue tax on talking machines and records, so prospective buyers should get in and save this now.

Roark has ordered from the factory another gross of rubber fly swatters, and if the flies don't find it out and leave the country, you will need them.

The matchless Col. Booth Lowrey will deliver a lecture tonight—if he is able, after shaking hands and talking with his host of friends here. But he is "long" on both these lines of activity, though neither seems so to his delighted admirers. He will set the Chautauqua crowd to "going lively, right at the start.

At 9.30, 2.30, 7.30, daily, until next Monday, inclusive, there will be something doing on the Chautauqua lot. Be there to share the joys.

In self-defense, and for the protection of the public, use a rubber fly swatter.

Buy the instrument the greatest artists of the world select to reproduce their supreme efforts. You can't fool them, and they select the Victrola. Let Roark demonstrate and explain the superior qualities.

A Good Investment.

Most of our progressive business concerns have bought season Chautauqua tickets for all their employees, and will close up every afternoon to attend the delightful sessions.

This is the right spirit, for there is never a better way to improve and benefit everyone, and the investment of time and money will be vastly productive along all good lines. Let's all make this a season of enjoyment and lasting benefit.

Dr. L. P. Moore and family are in Chicago, where the doctor is taking special work in medicine and surgery for a term of some weeks.

Start at the beginning, and attend the Youths' Chautauqua at 9.30 this morning. This is a new feature, never having been presented here, and is a strong and pleasing part of the great Chautauqua work.

Decoration Day Observed.

Decoration Day was observed here yesterday by the surviving old soldiers and by the ones who honor the memory of their departed dead. The graves in both cemeteries were decorated with flags and flowers, and the increasing number is very apparent from year to year, only a few of the veterans of the civil war now surviving.

Patriotic music in plenty at Roark's.

'Rah for Chau!'

May 31-June 4, Chautauqua dates here.

Registration day, June 5, is creating more interest than any election ever held in this country.

Miss Marie Morgan is expected from Russellville today, to attend our Chautauqua while a guest of relatives here.

Both the preceding Chautauquas have been splendid but this promises even more, in all ways, and the person who fails to attend will be a loser.

As an indication of the intensity of gardening in town, there have been many wagon loads of bean poles sold here this spring.

Even rain can't dampen the spirits of a real Chautauquan.

Central City is getting ready for her Chautauqua by planning heavy attendance at ours, and that will all help, too.

Men between 21 and 31 are being much honored by being selected for military service, though they may not look at it that way.

This will be the greatest "get-together" week this year.

Get added pleasures by stopping in at Roark's during Chautauqua. A pianist will be in attendance, or you may make your own music, or listen to the Victrola, or play it. Come anyway, for you are welcome.

Brooke's Chicago band here Saturday at Chautauqua, and will be heard by thousands.

They Couldn't Fool Caruso.

Caruso had won world recognition by ten years' public appearance before he had his voice permanently recorded. He and scores more of the world's greatest artists in all lines are vastly more interested in how their talents will be presented to the millions of talking machine users and untold millions of hearers for all time to come, than any individual possibly could be in listening to them. They came from all quarters of the world to America, seeking the Victrola as the supreme vehicle—so why should you make a mistake by buying any other instrument! Accept the judgment of the greatest artists and keenest critics the world contains. Drop in at Roark's, any time, and see and hear why the Victrola is in such universal demand, the world over, that production has never yet reached a point to supply it, though millions of dollars are spent annually for buildings and machinery.

Chautauqua May 31-June 4.

See the Roark display of 44 rockers, every one at take away prices, for room is needed on the display floor.

Muhlenberg Chautauqua, Greenville, Ky., May 31-June 4.

See the $100 Victrola.

The variety of the Chautauqua program will contain plenty for every worthy taste.

Registration day for national military service has been fixed by the President for Tuesday, June 5, and that will be a very busy day all over this country, for persons of the male sex between 21 and 31 years of age.

Woodridge-Morgan Wedding.

Miss Elizabeth Woodridge and Mr. Baxter J. Morgan were married by Rev. G. P. Dillon at his home in Madisonville last Sunday afternoon in the presence of a few witnesses. They returned here at once, and are at home on Hopkinsville street. Both are well known young folks here, and have a host of friends who join in wishing them greatest happiness and usefulness.

Fight the fly, or he may whip you.

Muhlenberg Boy Winning Out.

Mr. Earle Hahn, son of Mr. W. P. Hahn, of McNary, is winning distinction in the service of his country. He has recently graduated with honors in the U. S. radio school, and is now "some where in the United States" in charge of important wireless communication service. The New York Evening Journal recently had a photograph and lengthy article of his work. Mr. Hahn was the first wireless operator in this section, and at his home at McNary was in communication with Washington and other Atlantic stations. Muhlenberg as usual, is at the front, and giving a good account of itself.

Uncle Dunc Botts says: "A piano player may be an artist, but a player piano is never anything but a criminal."

Mr. A. J. Adams, of Cleaton, was here on business the latter part of the week, but had time to mingle socially with his friends here.

Starting second gross of fly swatters. Get yours from Roark.

The weather man, even, promises to be with us in our Chautauqua.

Brother Pluvius has been with us pleasingly, so far.

School children are now getting settled down to vacation, and declare it is much easier than getting adjusted to school work in the fall.

Although we are in a great world war, don't forget that the fly destroys more lives than any other one agency.

Open house and good fellowship are especially the rule in Greenville during Chautauqua season.

Call at Roark's and get a copy of the May issue of the Victor record catalog. This is the most valuable book ever given away, as it cost about $150,000 before a page was ever printed, a corps of editors being engaged for many months in gathering the world of valuable data, history and illustrations presented. Yours free, and mailed on request, gladly.

Get in right at the kick off and stay with the Chautauqua to the end, and you will get great benefits.

Intelligent care of the outer premises will do more to destroy the fly than all the work that may be done by swatting. In fact, if everyone would observe sanitary rules, there would be no flies to fight and destroy us.

"Assembly" makers of automobiles and talking machines are springing up all over the country, and are trimming the public more than any other pirates. The legitimate manufacturers in these lines are not able to supply the demand for their goods, and it is a great season for the mushroom concerns. But woe unto the buyers of these goods, for that will surely be his lot.

Mr. Russell Ford, of St. Charles, spent the week-end here with relatives and friends.

If you have passed 21 and have not reached 31, you are due to register next Tuesday, and there are no exceptions. Even the sick must register, and all prisoners will be required to do the same, or they will have a year or two added to their imprisonment.

Good morning! Bought your Chautauqua tickets yet? Just got time.

There are more Victrolas in use throughout the world than any three machines made, yet there are older concerns than the Victor Talking Machine Co. The longer you hear it, the more thoroughly you will understand the universal demand for the Victrola.

Dr. Ira Landreth, one of the most brilliant orators of the South, will deliver two lectures here on the last day of the Chautauqua. They alone will be worth the $2 for a season ticket.

The banks, postoffice and rural carriers observed the holiday yesterday, but everybody else was bus.

A man or woman can surely get $2 worth of good from a season Chautauqua ticket, but a boy or girl can get—nobody knows how vast a good for the program will do untold good in forming habits and developing character in the young.

MUHLENBERG COUNTY CHAUTAUQUA GREENVILLE, KY. MAY 31-JUNE 4 THE CAROLINE SPARLING COMPANY

Their Varied Program,
"Better Than Ever," Will
Chautauqua.

THE Caroline Sparling Company is an organization of real artists, each member of which is possessed of a pleasing personality. They present a program so varied it is altogether distinctive. Caroline Sparling, soprano, has a splendidly trained voice of rare quality and volume. Miss Becker is known as one of the best whistlers and third call initiators in America. Mrs. Roberts in her child impersonations wins encore after encore. Ensemble Hawaiian numbers, featuring ukelele and steel guitar, add novelty. Third season and committee reports from ten states say, "Better than ever." The company will give two concerts here, the second day of the Chautauqua.

THE WELLER-COOK COMPANY

MISS WILSON. MISS WELDER. MISS COOK.
MISS WELDER is the talker and singer of this company. Miss Cook is the soprano soloist and Miss Wilson is the pianist. Miss Weller is one of the youngest people who was "dragged" into the profession without having to do any wire pulling. Yielding to public pressure, she entered the field, and she has been making talking and picture making ever since in Ly. and in winter and in Chautauqua in summer. This is her fourth year with the Lincoln Chautauqua. Miss Weller says she is "some some cartoonist." Miss Grace Wilson is one of those "born comedians" who scarcely is made especially just to do that. Miss Cook, the soprano, a Scot in her blood, comes from Minneapolis. The Federation of Women's Clubs of that city recognized her ability to the extent of giving her a scholarship for a year's study in Chicago. This company appears the fourth day of the Chautauqua.

These Folks Are Attending a Chautauqua

THESE boys and girls are attending a Chautauqua. That's what they are doing right here in this picture. It is the Youth's Chautauqua, designed and put especially for alert boys and girls that like a good time. Plan to get in the Youth's Chautauqua. You'll have a great time. Games every weekday. A picnic and a hunt and a parade and a world of interesting things have all been planned for you. Chautauqua is coming to have a new meaning with all these wonderful things made especially for boys and girls. If you have work to do get it out of the way and be prepared for a relaxing and fun time Chautauqua week. Find out through your Chautauqua secretary who the supervisor is, and go around this morning and have a talk with her. She may have something for you to do that you will enjoy doing in getting the plans into shape.

The Scrap Book

Hoist With His Own Petard.
They tell a story about a woman who applied to a sewing machine company for a machine to be used on trial. The agent set her down as one who had no intention of really buying, so he sent her a secondhand machine, made by another company, that they had somehow got in trade.
"That," said he, "will be good enough for her to do her emergency sewing on, and that is all she wants it for."
At the end of two weeks the woman called at the office.
"That machine," she said, "is a treasure. It runs easily, and the tucking and shirring and hemstitching are perfect. All the women in our building say they never saw anything so nice. They are going to sell their old machines and buy new ones too. There are eleven of us who want to buy. Since that is quite a large order, we thought you might be able to get the machines for us at a discount."
The agent tried to induce the woman to look with favor upon the machines made by his own firm, but her affection was fastened upon that alien sample. In the end he had to fill an order for eleven machines made by a rival concern.—New York Post.

The Minor Poets.
The late Jack London had a hatred of the minor poets, a species that of late years has increased enormously in America.
"Minor poets," London said one day, "are likely to be vain and jealous and easily offended. I once sat between two minor poets at a dinner.
"I saw your vignette in the Book Magazine," said the first, as they were discussing the soup.
"Did you?" said the other, with assumed indifference.
"Yes, and I heard a neat compliment paid to it, too, by a young lady."
"What did she say?"
"The first minor poet laughed, and there was a note of triumph in his voice.
"Why," he answered, "she wanted to know if I had written it."—Exchange.

But Not Accidentally.
Little Mollie was seated at the table with a plate of cakes opposite her. She was waiting impatiently for the meal to commence and ventured to touch one of the cakes with her forefinger.
"You must eat that cake now, Mollie," said her mother severely. "No body will want it after you have touched it."
Mollie took the cake and placed it on her plate. A few minutes later she said plaintively:
"Oh, mamma, I've touched another one!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Rossini's Reception of Wagner.
Wagner and some companions called upon Rossini. Hearing them on the stairs, Rossini hastily placed the score of "Lohengrin" on the piano, and when the German composer entered he said, pointing to it, "You see, illustrious maestro, I am studying your work."
"But the score is upside down!" exclaimed the other, seeing how the book was placed.
"Yes," returned Rossini calmly; "the fact is I have had it the right way up for some time, but could make nothing of it," and then all present began to laugh, including Wagner himself.

Impatience.
Impatience turns an agree into a fever, a fever into the plague, fear into despair, anger into rage, loss into madness and sorrow into amazement.—Jeremiah Taylor.

A History of Muhlenberg County

BY OTTO A. ROTHERT

THIS book tells of the wilderness conquered, and of the adventures of the men and women who founded and developed the county up to and since the beginning of the railroad era, and made possible the achievements of to-day. It is the story of the county from the standpoint of its personal and public traditions, which have been arranged in related groups and form an almost continuous narrative. It was published in 1913. Competent judges have pronounced it the best county history ever published in the United States. The Courier-Journal says, "The book is worthy of study, not only for the pictures it gives of early times and early society, but for the wealth of its curious and valuable illustrations and its expostions of the industrial and social progress of the county and its towns." The Western Recorder says, "It is more interesting than a good novel; it will interest old and young alike." The Greenville Record says, "Every Muhlenberger and former citizen of the county will value the book far above the price at which it is offered." The American Historical Review says, "The book not only contains much that is of interest to the student of Kentucky history but is written in a pleasing style."

It is a labor of love offered at cost of production, the author's time and work being contributed. The book contains 500 pages, 240 excellent illustrations and a complete index. It is printed on a superior quality of paper and is handsomely bound in dark red cloth.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.
